Honorary Life Members

The constitution has a provision for members that have given extraordinary dedication and exemplary service to the club.

Life membership is an honorary role only, it does not give the life member any privileges or advantages, it is the club's way of thanking them for their dedication and service.

Robert Newlinds has nominated the following three members who have given long and extraordinary service to the club.

Ross Stanton

Ross has been a member since 1972. He was elected onto the Geebung Committee in 2003. Ross has been in charge of building maintenance the past 15 years. This has been a very challenging job and Ross has gone above and beyond the keep the lodges in top shape.

Ross is a barrister, is a keen skier (both down hill and back country) and a fly fishing enthusiast.

Ella thanked the committee for their assistance and the committee thanked Ella for co-ordinating this event.

Maintenance.

Members will be please to know that Ross has organized to replace the two older hot water systems in Thredbo with THREE new ones. There should never be a shortage of hot water in Thredbo.
The development application for Perisher has finally been approved and Ross expects the work to commence in the summer of 2019-2020.
The renovation will include-cladding the external block work with colour-bond steel (Insulation will be included) The windows will be replaced with new double glazed windows
The eves will also be replaced.
The roof is in good condition however if there is a need to replace it, the development application is valid for another 5 years. Malcom Smith suggested that we coat the existing roof with texi-coat epoxy emulsion which will give the roof another 20-30 years.

The survey had a 25% response.
